

Prof. Dr. Maja Göpel

Wissenschaftlerin, Rednerin, Autorin, Politikberaterin

Honorary Professor for Sustainability Transformations at the Leuphana University Lüneburg

Guest Professor at College of Europe, Brügge

Member of the Club of Rome, Co-founder of Scientists4Future

Profession

Political Economist, Transformation Researcher and -consultant, Sustainability Expert

Research Fields

Sustainability Transformations, Political Economy, Systemic Innovation Processes, Future Skills and Anticipation

Lebenslauf

Prof. Dr. Maja Göpel works since 25 years as Political Economist, Transformation Expert and Sustainability Scientist at the intersection of Science, Politics and Society.

As Policy Advisor, Bestselling Author («Unsere Welt neu denken», Ullstein Verlag, translated in six languages) and invited speaker she is Honorary Professor for Sustainability Transformations at the Leuphana University Lüneburg.

She was formerly Scientific Director at The New Institute and General Secretary of the Scientific Advisory Board of the Federal Government Global Environmental Changes (WBGU). Before that she led the Berlin office of the Wuppertal Institute for Climate, Environment, Energy, after six years as Director of Future Justice of the Brussels office and as Campaign Manager of Climate Energy in Hamburg for the World Future Council which she founded.

The diplomate media manager and PhD Political Economist is member of the Club of Rome, the World Future Council, the Balaton Group, the Bioeconomist Council of the German Federal Government and co-founder of the initiative «Scientists4Future».

For her work she has been awarded several times, most recently with the Science Communication Medal and the Theodor Heuss Prize.

Auszeichnungen

2021 Science Communication Medal, Max-Planck-Institut Göttingen

2021 Theodor Heuss Preis

2021 WeQ Award

2021 Erich-Fromm-Preis

2020 B.A.U.M. Umwelt- und Nachhaltigkeitspreis

2020 ZEIT WISSEN Preis »Mut zur Nachhaltigkeit«

2019 Adam Smith Preis

Prof. Dr. Maja Göpel

Scholar, Speaker, Author, Advisor

Honorary Professor for Sustainability Transformations at Leuphana University Lüneburg

Visiting Professor at College of Europe, Bruges

Member of the Club of Rome, Co-Initiator of Scientists4Future

Profession

Political Economist, Transformation Scholar and Consultant, Sustainability Expert

Research Fields

Sustainability Transformation Governance, Political Economy, Systemic Innovation Leadership, Future Skills and Anticipation

CV

Prof. Dr. Maja Göpel is a political economist and an influential voice for a sustainable transformation of society, working at the intersection of economy, politics and society.

The policy advisor, bestselling author ("Unsere Welt neu denken" Ullstein Buchverlage 2020, translated into six languages) and sought-after speaker is honorary professor for sustainability transformations at the Leuphana University of Lüneburg.

She was Director of Research at The New Institute and Secretary-General of the German Advisory Council on Global Change (WBGU). Before that, she headed the Berlin office of the Wuppertal Institute for Climate, Environment, Energy, after having helped set up the World Future Council for six years as Director Future Justice at the Brussels office and as Campaign Manager Climate Energy in Hamburg.

Maja Göpel is a member of the Club of Rome, the World Future Council, the Balaton Group, the Bioeconomy Council of the German Federal Government, and a co-initiator of the "Scientists for Future" network.

Her work has been recognized with multiple awards in Germany, the most recent ones being the Theodor Heuss Prize and the Science Communication Medal of the Max Planck Institute Göttingen.

Awards

2021 Science Communication Medal, Max Planck Institute Göttingen

2021 Theodor Heuss Prize

2021 WeQ Award

2021 Erich Fromm Prize

2020 B.A.U.M. Umwelt- und Nachhaltigkeitspreis

2020 ZEIT WISSEN Prize »Mut zur Nachhaltigkeit«

2019 Adam Smith Prize